Layn is the largest monk fruit producer globally and has been committed to working with our farmers to produce the best quality monk fruit extract for over two decades. Layn's extensive monk fruit portfolio offers options up to approximately 250 times sweeter than sugar, while providing a well-rounded sweetness without the calories.

We're devoted to continual investment in significant R&D efforts aimed at breeding higher percentages of the sweetening compounds in the raw fruit, increasing extract yield, securing the supply chain and optimizing the way we produce monk fruit extract to offer the best value to our customers.
